IJCAS :::: International Journal of Control, Automation

International Journal of Industrial and Manufacturing Systems Engineering (IJIMSE) publishes state-of-the-art fundamental and applied research in manufacturing at the systems level. It aims at imparting fundamental knowledge to develop the ability to address complex industrial issues, highlighting how to design, run, control and optimize production systems.

Systems engineering is an interdisciplinary field of engineering and engineering management that focuses on how to design and manage complex systems over their life cycles. At its core, systems engineering utilizes systems thinking principles to organize this body of knowledge. The individual outcome of such efforts, an engineered system, can be defined as a combination of components that work ...

International Journal of Systems Engineering (IJSE) proposes and fosters discussion on the evolution and current developments in the field of engineering management. Coverage includes but not limit to main branches of engineering, relationships with other disciplines, the development of medical technology, hermal energy and engineering, heat engineering, information systems, human-computer ...

management. As such, systems engineering within electrical engineering tends to emphasize control techniques which are often software-intensive.

What Is Systems Engineering?

This course will introduce you to the major aspects of control theory and its application to the design of control systems, and you will develop your skills in use of the standard computer packages for control design. In response to the growing demands of the chemical, oil, aerospace, aeronautical ...

Automatic process control in continuous production processes is a combination of control engineering and chemical engineering disciplines that uses industrial control systems to achieve a production level of consistency, economy and safety which could not be achieved purely by human manual control. It is implemented widely in industries such as oil refining, pulp and paper manufacturing ...
