First, you need to find something that contains DNA. Since DNA is the blueprint for life, everything living contains DNA. For this experiment, we like to use green split peas. But there are lots of other DNA sources too, such as: Pour your thin pea-cell soup through a strainer into another container ...

Proteomic analysis of the proteome. Proteomics is the study of the proteome, the entire set of proteins expressed by a genome, cell, tissue, or organism. Proteomics can be used to study the function of proteins and how they interact with each other and with other molecules. Proteomics is a rapidly growing field of research that is helping to advance our understanding of the human genome and the role of proteins in health and disease.
