Quantitative definition. In describing the redundancy of raw data, the rate of a source of information is the average entropy per symbol. For memoryless sources, this is merely the entropy of each symbol, while, in the most general case of a stochastic process, it is $H = \lim_{n \rightarrow \infty} \frac{1}{n} \log \frac{1}{P_n}$, the limit, as n goes to infinity, of the joint entropy of the first n symbols divided by n .

Redundancy (information theory) - Wikipedia

Definition. The Fisher information is a way of measuring the amount of information that an observable random variable X carries about an unknown parameter θ , upon which the probability of X depends. Let $f(X; \theta)$ be the probability density function (or probability mass function) for X conditional on the value of θ . This is also the likelihood function for θ

Statistical process control (SPC) is the use of statistical methods to assess the stability of a process and the quality of its outputs. For example, consider a bottling plant. The entire system of production that produces filled bottles is termed a process. Suppose the weight of liquid content added to a bottle is critical for cost control and customer satisfaction.
